We confirm you to give conduct WoS and JCR online demo session for MMU. Please confirm the date and timing for same. Also find the attached Bio and Pic of the Mr. Vishav, Who will be the presenter of the session.

Web of Science is the most authoritative and established multi-disciplinary research citation indexing database that is used for scientific research discovery, analyzing quality research, identifying research trends, finding research collaboration partners and a range of other use cases. Web of Science data is used in research metrics by NIRF and several other credible ranking and accreditation agencies across the globe. More than 250 institutions in India like AIIMS, PGIMER, IIT's & IISc, IISER's, Universities-Public and Private, CSIR institutions, DST institutions, ICMR institutions, MOES institutions etc. leverage Web of Science for research. This includes a large number of private universities including the likes of Chandigarh University, Manipal and Amity.

Some of the key benefits of Web of Science which will be discussed during the session are as follow:

- Find most relevant papers in your subject
- Reduce your library budget by getting a window to vast quality "open-access" full-text on the web
- Discover hidden trends and patterns in emerging research areas
- Uncover Potential Collaborators
- Identify leading researchers, institutions, and journals.
- Find Potential Funding agencies
- Get accurate and objective citation data for organizations and individual researchers.
- Improve Rankings

Looking forward interacting with you all.

Webinar: Redefining Accommodation Operations in the Pandemic Scenario

The hospitality industry has been visibly affected by the covid 19 outbreak. The situation became worst when lockdown orders were implemented to minimize virus spreading and peoples stopped their movement . The demand for hotel services nearly vanished and the occupancy rate dropped to almost 20 percent in early April, lowering the RevPAR by more than 80 percent year-over-year. Covid-19 pandemic is a major business loss to the global hospitality industry. However the Government are unlocking the restrictions one by one with specific detailed guidelines. But one thing is certain, the post-pandemic, guest will be more suspicious and careful about anything that could be a health hazard. They will be more cautious at every ‘touch point’ in a hotel, which will be challenging task to the entire hotel management in general. However Covid-19 has indirectly given us opportunities to look and think out of the box. The purpose of this seminar is understand new normalcy measures for accommodation sectors, implemented by major hotels worldwide during this covid 19 pandemic.

Sustainability in foodservice is a collaborative process. Over the last decade, many companies in the foodservice industry have come to realize the importance of developing the tools and resources necessary to create more sustainable products, reduce energy and water usage, and to increase recycling and efficiency. Sustainable practices incorporate products and services that reduce environmental impact and provide improved health benefits and/or positive social impacts as a result of the preparation and/or delivery of the meal. A good synergy among foodservice business owners, local farmers and producers, designers and manufacturers can help to promote environment-friendly practices, sustainable production and operations and better profits. Through continued innovation, research, development, use of best-in-breed energy efficient technology and best practices, we can design, drive and manage sustainable foodservice businesses which are not only benefit clients or end-customers but also have a tremendous positive impact on the environment. The purpose of this webinar is to identify barriers to implementing sustainable practices in restaurants, and explore ways that restaurateurs can incorporate sustainable business practices.

- Kolkata biryani. ...
- Memoni biryani. ...
- Hyderabadi biryani. ...
- Malabar biryani. ...

- Telangana Cuisine is typically spicy and ingredients such as tamarind, sesame seeds, red chillies and asafoetida are widely used in a variety of vegetarian and non-vegetarian dishes.
- Hyderabad is the shared capital of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana and is obviously wildly popular for its biryanis and Karachi biscuits. But there is so much more to Telangana Food that many of us are completely unaware of.

Music:

Folk music can refer to both traditional types of music and the modern notion of folk music that arose during the 1960s in the United States. Traditional folk music has been around as long as music itself, but the term "folk music" wasn't really used until the 1800s. There is a song for every month, season and for every occasion. "Bara Masa"- the songs for twelve months are sung almost everywhere in north India. We find description of clouds of Aashad, the rains of shrawna, the lighting of lamps of kartika, the spring buds of magha and the festival of colours of Phalgun. While songs of playing with children and songs of playing at play are plenty, lullaby's are the finest in our society. Songs connected with marriage rituals have lilting quality about them. There are plenty of songs related to the men toiling in the fields and women fetching water from the village well. Folk songs in Haryana are called 'Ragani', although the style has nothing in common with the classical traditions of Raga-Ragani system.

New normalcy in Hotel & Tourism Sector

MMICT & BM (Hotel Management) is organizing a virtual panel discussion on “New normalcy in Hotel & Tourism Sector .The objective of this Panel discussion is to understand the impact of Covid-19 on the hospitality industry. This impact is huge and unpredictable, in terms of hotel revenue and employment. However, the hospitality and tourism businesses are now returning back to normal and are expected to further improve after the relaxations given in the Unlock 4 guidelines. Despite tourists returning back to hotels, resorts and hill stations gradually, experts feel that it will take around two to three years for these sectors to be fully back on track. In this context, panel discussion is organized to discuss the outcome plan of the hotel and tourism industry to come back to normalcy with some essential protocol. This discussion will also examine the impact of Covid 19 on student employability.

ART OF RECOVERING FROM FAILURE

01st October 2020 | 11:00 am - 12:00 noon

SPEAKERS

 Mr Sushil Tiwari
Author, Motivational Speaker
& Avid Traveller

While discussing inventions, Thomas Edison’s associate, Walter S. Mallory, once said to him, “Isn’t it a shame that with the tremendous amount of work you have done you haven’t been able to get any results?” Edison replied with a smile, “Results! Why, man, I have gotten a lot of results! I know several thousand things that won’t work.” People see success as positive and failure as a negative. Edison’s quote shows that failure isn’t a bad thing. You can learn, grow and evolve from your past mistakes. Failing once, twice, or even hundreds of times doesn’t mean you’ve hit the end of the road – it means you’ve taken another turn, and you’re one step closer to success. As you go through life and encounter failures, you’ll learn valuable life lessons from those mistakes. The purpose of this webinar is to help student learn from your failures and become a more successful and productive individual and entrepreneur.

MMICT & BM (HOTEL MANAGEMENT)

Culinary tourism or food tourism or gastronomy tourism is the exploration of food as the purpose of tourism. It is now considered a vital component of the tourism experience. Dining out is common among tourists and now food has become major part of customer's ranking regarding the destination along with accommodation, sightseeing and climate. Dining is a way to experience local culture. Mexican cuisine is an important aspect of the culture, social structure and popular traditions of Mexico. The most important example of this connection is the use of mole for special occasions and holidays, particularly in the South and Central regions of the country. It's loaded with unique ingredients, making it unlike any other food you'll find around the world. In fact, traditional Mexican food has earned recognition by the UNESCO as an intangible cultural heritage contribution to humanity. The purpose of webinar is to gain the knowledge by watching a demonstration and learn the basics of Mexican flavours and pick up a few tips on plating and presentation as well.

WORKSHOP ON MENTAL HEALTH & WELLBEING: POST COVID PANDEMIC

MMICT & BM (Hotel Management) is organizing a virtual workshop on "Mental Health & Wellbeing: Post Covid pandemic" scheduled at 0230 PM, 26 June 2021 on Google meet online platform. The Corona virus disease 2019 (COVID-19) has become a huge threat all over the world as a pandemic, and many countries are currently experiencing the second or third wave of the on-going COVID-19 pandemic, which also leads to mental health problems of different groups including students. Mental health issues are the leading impediment to academic success. Mental illness can affect students' motivation, concentration, and social interactions—crucial factors for students to succeed in higher education. The 2019 Annual Report of the Center for Collegiate Mental Health reported that anxiety continues to be the most common problem (62.7% of 82,685 respondents) among students who completed the Counseling Center Assessment of Psychological Symptoms. The COVID-19 pandemic situation has brought this vulnerable population into renewed focus. This webinar highlights key issues and offers practical solutions to address the mental health of college students during the COVID-19 pandemic. In this context MMITC&BM (HM) is organizing a workshop to address the issue of the students. The objectives of the workshop are,

1. How Students keep ourselves normal, energetic in this situation

Dear Dr Nitesh

Greeting from Maharishi Markandeshwar (deemed to be) University, Mullana, Ambala
MMICT & BM (Hotel Management) is organizing a virtual workshop on "Mental Health & Wellbeing: Post Covid pandemic" scheduled at 02:30 PM, 25 June 2021 on Google meet online platform. In the face of the global COVID-19 pandemic, Colleges have been confronting unprecedented challenges as they have to convert the whole system including their classes to an online format. On the other hand students are also facing the same problem and struggling with the new online system for learning. Sometimes as a parent, we expect and pressurize that students also adjust with new technology at the same pace. Mental health experts are very concerned about the psychological wellbeing of students post-pandemic. Students are vulnerable to chances of increased depression, anxiety and suicidal tendencies, due to the disruption of routines, decreased support systems, fear of infection, cancellation of graduation gatherings and academic uncertainty. The pandemic itself has become a cause of worry, stress, and grief. These stressors can cause mental health challenges for anyone and can cause acute symptoms to appear for students who may experience preexisting mental health challenges. The objectives of the webinar are,

1. How Students keep ourselves normal, energetic in this situation
2. Minimize the impact of pandemic on mental health.

In this context, I would like to invite you for this webinar as a keynote speaker for addressing the issue of the students and share your views on the topic. You are requested to kindly emphasize on the kinds of mental stress students are facing in this pandemic and how to overcome it. Duration of the session is 50 minutes and 10 minutes will be for question/answer sessions. The target audiences are hospitality students, faculty members of the university.

Link will be shared with you very soon.

SURVIVAL TO REVIVAL: EMBRACING THE NEW NORMAL

India the most of the world, was caught unaware when the pandemic erupted. However, we were among the first countries to take measures to control its spread by introducing full screening and quarantine facilities for passengers returning from international destinations. Even today with the lockdown easing among the countries with the strict measures however to say, these measures have taken a heavy toll and the economy has had to pay the price for it. Amongst all the industries, travel and hospitality is by far the most impacted. In the last several decades the world has seen many crises but at no time has the performance of the industry dipped to these levels. Most hotels are shut today while others are operating at very low occupancy rates among guests who have been stuck due to the lockdown. Even with the enforced gradual opening from June 2021 it will be a while before people feel confident to stay in a hotel and travel without fear such has been the battering of consumer confidence. Further, with most companies having suffered during this period it is very likely that they are out of cash for commercial travelling. Food and Beverage demand will also continue to suffer as people will be wary of large crowds and mostly of social distancing. For many other companies including Hospitality industry, we believe the medium-term focus should be on revival i.e. re-opening of any closed properties. This would involve creating new SOP's by re-creating guests, defining new rules for cleaning and housekeeping so that the guests and staff can feel safe in the environment and it will allow them to re-visit some of the existing properties to revive the guests better. Last but not the least there has to be a sales and marketing plan which targets customers with customized packages and cancellation friendly offers. In the long run hotel companies need to be building a healthy availability of capital through both debt and equity. Going back to business as usual is no longer a choice for the industry. There will certainly be a new normal that everyone will have to adjust to. This will involve fairly a very high degree of awareness to understand the market context, changes will have to be made across the board and at every touch point in the guest journey from customer acquisition to maintaining customer relationships. Terms will have to be re-structured and multi-collating will no longer be nice to have but imperative. Some well within the existing hotel will have to be re-positioned. The weak segment of all hotels under pressure will have to be re-located. Only the fittest and most compliant companies with deep pockets will survive. But the ones that do emerge as the other players either have started or will start a new things which will be much change than the current one.

Following address the 2021 HRCTO Q&A forum management will be able to address the business needs. Embracing the new normal Delivered good all the continuous demands. HR is vital. Adopting the digital transformation will help in driving the growth. The HR is also focused on the business and improve the productivity and a better work life. HR has a role to play in building and leading the team.

The guest speaker for the session was Mr. Parveen Sharma, Faculty of Personality development at MMICT&BM (Hotel Management) and MMDU, Mullana. It was a very informative webinar as Mr. Parveen Sharma enlightened the audience with his circumstantial explanation. The webinar began with a traditional note, praying to the Saraswathi vandana. The session saw an overwhelming response from students and the faculty members who took part in the session.

The speaker started the session by providing an insight about some key points that concerned about being a gentle man in the society. Main areas which were emphasized upon include

- What being a gentle man is all about
- Art of being a gentle man
- Grooming advice for gentleman in every individual

Furthermore, the students understood about personal development skills and why they play a prominent role. Few of them are problem-solving, quick decision making, self-confidence etc.

Mr. Parveen Sharma guided the audience with his knowledge in the field of personal development and instructed the students, how they can build these skills for being a successful gentleman in the society. He also included activities which raised the keenness of knowing about the topic held in the webinar. The webinar concluded with the vote of thanks by the A.K. INTRODUCTION OF TOPIC

Simulation is a technique that attempts to create characteristics of the real-world. Simulation allows the educator to control the learning environment through scheduling of practices and by providing feedback. Simulation also refers to activities that mimic the reality of a clinical environment and that are designed for use in demonstrating procedures and promoting decision making and critical thinking. The simulation method allows students to practice their clinical skills until they develop a sense of proficiency; to learn at their own pace; and to freely make mistakes.

OSCE / OSPE is a kind of multi-station examination for clinical subjects. It is an assessment tool used in evaluating students' clinical competence where examiners plan carefully the areas to be examined.
